Woodward & Lothrop

New York—WASHINGTON—Paris

Our 34th Anniversary Sale

Begins This Morning and Will Continue
Throughout the Week

This is the largest and best Anniversary Sale we have ever arranged, and every department of the entire store contributes values that have never been equaled in these annual sales.

Great as have been our preparations for this event, taking several months to perfect, we do not advocate delay in making selections.

Quality of Merchandise:

Selected with strict adherence to our standards of excellence in all details, and all of it coming from our regular sources of supply.

Absolute Newness:

Every item in this sale is new, bought expressly for this occasion—fresh, clean, and perfect, all of it complying with the demands of spring.

Assortments and Prices:

Both planned to set in the minds of every one a correct estimate of this store's value-giving possibilities and the completeness with which it provides.

Every value will more than justify the highest expectations of the thousands of people who have patronized these events in the past, and the constantly increasing number of new friends. Manufacturers have helped as never before—on account of the peculiar wholesale conditions now existing their liberality far exceeds anything of the past.

COLLEGE COURSE URGED AS CORN CLUB PRIZE

Department Believes Agriculture Training Better for Winners Than Trip to Washington.

The Department of Agriculture recommends that in place of a trip to Washington the young prize-winners of the corn, canning, poultry, and other agricultural clubs be given a year's course in practical training at some agricultural college. In case the young champion's academic training would not enable him to enter the agricultural college of his State, a more elementary course in a school where agriculture is taught or a course in an agricultural high school, are recommended.

The department considers that such courses have considerably more lasting value for prize-winners and for the agriculture of their sections than flying trips to the Capital. The State and local organizations which have been paying for these trips have been sincerely interested in developing a true appreciation of farming as a business among the boy and girl farmers. Some of these have already considered this question and have decided on the agricultural course as the more desirable prize.

Large cash prizes are not to be encouraged, according to those who have worked with the young contestants. Better suggestions are as follows:
A pair of registered pigs.
A pair of full blooded chickens.
A fine cow.
A registered calf.
An up-to-date corn planter.
A two-horse wagon.
A gold watch.
Books on agriculture.
A double-barreled shot gun.

SOCIETY

President Observes Holiday

President Wilson attended the celebration of Washington's birthday at the New National Theater yesterday afternoon. In the morning he accompanied Mrs. Wilson and their house guest, Mrs. Caroline Alexander, to the Central Congregational Church.

Washington society is greatly interested in a cable from Buenos Ayres stating that the Argentine government will send to Congress during the approaching session a bill creating an Argentine Embassy here in Washington. The announcement was made there by Senator Jose Luis Morante, the Argentine Minister of Foreign Affairs. Mr. John W. Garrett is at present American Minister to Argentina.

Mrs. Charles A. Munn, who has been spending the winter at Beverly Cove, Mass., with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Amory, has arrived in Washington and opened her house in Massachusetts avenue for the spring months.

The president general, N. S. D. A. R. Mrs. William Cumming Story, wishes to state, as there have been many requests for reserved seats for the patriotic celebration to be held in Memorial Continental Hall this evening at 8 o'clock, that no tickets have been sent out, but that the public is most cordially invited.

Mrs. James F. Mitchell, wife of Dr. Mitchell, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. C. Watts, at their home in Baltimore. She will attend the Monday German tonight.

The Belasco Theater will be filled with a brilliant audience tonight for the performance of "Fanny's First Play," by Bernard Shaw. The proceeds will go to the Neighborhood House kindergarten.

Among the boxholders are Mrs. Thomas F. Walsh, Miss Mabel Boardman, Dean Gregory, Mrs. John Jay White, Mrs. Deles Blodgett, Mrs. John Miller Horton, and Miss Mary Temple.

The Freshman Prom of Georgetown University will take place tonight in the New Willard ballroom. It promises to be a great event in undergraduate life, and many of the best and last year's debutantes will strive for belated during the evening.

An elaborate supper will be served at midnight, after which a cotillion will be danced, for which the cotillion masters have been provided. Mr. Frank Barrett is chairman of the entertainment committee.

The Damsel for Miss Caffery

Mrs. Henry Haywood Glasie and Miss Mary R. Wilcox will entertain at a 7 o'clock, at the Congressional Club, in honor of Miss Caffery.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles W. Richardson entertained informally at their Connecticut avenue home Saturday evening in honor of the University of Pennsylvania Club, of which Dr. Richardson is president. As the club always in some way celebrates Washington's Birthday they took this opportunity of inviting the younger members who are strangers in Washington to meet the older members and their wives. They sang their college songs and recalled many pleasant memories of their alma mater. The university flag was conspicuously placed, surrounded by a picture of Gen. Washington, draped with American flags. The evening wound up with refreshments and dancing.

Mrs. South Trimble, Miss Trimble and Mrs. Jerry South will be at home at their residence, 333 Thirteenth street, tomorrow afternoon from 3 until 5 o'clock. They will be assisted by Mrs. Ollie James, Mrs. Joseph Robinson, Mrs. Henry D. Clayton, Mrs. Oldfield, Mrs. Floyd, Mrs. James T. Lloyd, Mrs. Livingston, Mrs. Simon, Mrs. Bryan, Mrs. Eagle, Mrs. Nellie Craig, Mrs. Italy Carter, Miss Nina Lloyd, Miss Agnes Shackelford, Miss Lucy Chandler and a number of young girls from Kentucky.

Miss Jessie Herriott will leave for New York the first of the week and will return here shortly.

The entertainment to be given in the Cairo ball room Friday evening, February 27, under the management of Mrs. G. Grosvener Dawe, Mrs. Benjamin Smith, and Mrs. Louis Simon, consists of living pictures from fiction, and interpretative dancing. It will be followed by general dancing. Tickets may be secured at the Cairo.

Today, Washington's Birthday holiday, Mrs. Robert M. La Follette, of Wisconsin, will keep open house, 3230 Avenue of the Presidents, from 3 to 6 o'clock, as has been her custom in years past, for Wisconsin people and all others who may care to call. The women of the Wisconsin delegation will receive with her. Mrs. Glendower Evans, of Boston, and a number of women of the official circle, will also assist. In the evening a buffet supper will be served to those arriving. The Wisconsin members of Congress and other gentlemen have been invited to join in this informal function.

Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, former president general D. A. R., accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Carl Vrooman, and Mrs. Hunter, arrived at the Shoreham yesterday from Bloomington, Ill., for an extended visit.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Scott, of Chicago, arrived at the Shoreham yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Weldon, of New York, have arrived at the Shoreham for a short stay.

CLAD IN PANTALON TROUSERS, MODEL AROUSES ENVY OF TIMID GIRLS IN NATIONAL CAPITAL

Gaspings of Astonishment Greet

Miss Fashion Plate During Afternoon Stroll.

And what is the latest freak of fashion? Pantalon skirts!

Yes, the long-expected has happened, and those misanthropes who have grunted out predictions that women would take to the masculine trousers next can now "I-told-you-so" heads! For the pantaloons have actually arrived, and have really been worn, too.

It is true that the wearing so far has been confined to a languorous stroll yesterday of a model donned in the freak frock, who was a picture of Gen. Washington, draped with American flags. The evening wound up with refreshments and dancing.

INDIANS LEARNING TANGO.

Young Squaw in Nevada Giving

Elly, Nev., Feb. 22.—Headed by George Adams, a full-blooded Shoshone, and champion rider of Nevada, the younger Indians of Murray Canyon, near here, have rebelled against the old tribal method of dancing, and a movement is now on foot for the erection of a white man's dance hall.

Already several of the young bucks and squaws are being taught to tango, creaky trot and rag under the tutelage of a young squaw, who gives a full course of lessons for $2.50.

Music for the dances is furnished by Indian Dave, an old and nearly blind brave, who uses either a violin or harmonica as the fancy strikes him.

STRICKEN IN HIS PULPIT.

Rev. Henry Thomas Suffers Stroke

While Preaching.

Special to The Washington Herald.
Harrisville, Md., Feb. 22.—Rev. Henry Thomas was stricken with paralysis near the close of his sermon in Pinckney Memorial Church here this morning. He managed to stagger to a chair and was carried into the vestry room by several members of the congregation in a state of suppressed excitement, while the others silently filed out of the church.

Mr. Thomas is about fifty-five years old. Physicians said he would recover.

Cows Show Taste for Flowers.

Spokane, Wash., Feb. 22.—Because hot cows had a taste for flowers, Mrs. Elizabeth McKenzie, living a few miles out of Spokane, has been sued for $50. The cows broke out of their inclosure and raided the greenhouses of the Spokane Greenhouse Company, consuming roses valued at $100, carnations valued at a like sum, dahlias worth $15, and other flowers valued at $25, according to the complaint of the company, filed in the Superior Court.

ends of the trouser legs and the folds of the draped skirt fall in such a way as to make it seem that the feet are in separate enclosures.

"The value of such a skirt? Any thinking woman who has struggled with petticoats these tight-skirt days can tell in a minute. No underskirt is necessary when it is worn. Let the mischievous winds blow to their heart's content and merrily dressed in her pantalon dress, need give no surreptitious pulls to keep her skirt demurely in its place. It clings with a clinging that the wildest gale cannot displace. It is loosely made, so that no inconvenience in the width of the bottom of the pantaloons is felt. Its width also allows for an easy boarding of the high-stepped street cars.

The frock shown in the shop yesterday was far from fresh in its color, being entirely of black, except for touches of white lace and pink-flowered satin at the low-necked bodice. With it was worn a new spring chapeau of yellow straw, tilted extremely to one side and trimmed with a single black velvet ear standing erect in front.

Whether the new frock will "take" in Washington is being questioned by the authorities on local styles, but that it brought forth some sort of warm feeling was evidenced by the gasping sighs of astonishment which greeted the stroll of the wearer of the gown.
